EXPLANATORY NOTES

WHEREAS, Article 3 of the IRR of the Local Government Code of 1991 provides that "it is hereby declared the policy of the State that the territorial and political subdivisions of the State shall enjoy genuine and meaningful local autonomy to enable them to attain their fullest development as self-reliant communities and make them more effective partners in the attainment of national goals";

WHEREAS, the national government recognizes the critical role of local government units as the forefront in the delivery of basic services to the general public;

WHEREAS, for local government units to properly respond to this mandate, it is imperative that a reliable database of socio-economic status of its constituents be established to effect better planning and policy formulation;

WHEREAS, national government agencies such as the National Statistics Office, Department of Education, Department of Agriculture, Department of Social Welfare and Development, the Department of the Interior and Local Government and other private institutions conducts their census and socio-economic surveys from time to time resulting to an uncoordinated results that lead to inefficient utilization of resources;

WHEREAS, the uncoordinated conduct of these surveys and census with different time bounds results to different statistics leading to confusion among various users;

WHEREAS, the development of a reliable database of socio-economic status of the City's constituents will facilitate program beneficiary identification and the development of a system in measuring program impact evaluations notwithstanding their relevance and importance to the business sector;

WHEREAS, having a reliable database will also capacitate the City's quick response during disasters such as flooding and earthquakes especially in the submission of reports required by the national government and in the provision of relief operations;

WHEREAS, building a database of households in the City of Alaminos is one of the components of the One System, One Government being implemented in the City

NOW, THEREFORE, be it ordained by the Sangguniang Panlungsod in session assembled, that:
